

Should our City Government be More Open and Transparent?

Many residents of Miami Beach are unaware that we do not have an established right to be notified of many things happening in our neighborhoods. Miami Beach United's Residents Right to Know initiative is designed to bring change in this area. Key points below.*

HOA & Neighborhood Association Letters of Support from all Across Miami Beach:

Residents Right to Know Key Points*

- * Residents do not have an established right to be notified of many things happening in their neighborhoods
- * The Residents Right to Know has been a collaborative effort spearheaded by MBU while working closely with City Commissioners, City Attorney and residents
- * The Residents Right to Know will ensure that residents are notified when something is planned in their neighborhood which will impact their quality of life
- * In addition, residents will also be able to be more engaged in the City's plans, designs and implementations.
- * This new right will be good for residents and ultimately the City which will end up with better decisions and solutions.
- * The final Commission vote will be held on July 26th.

The New MBU Resident Scorecard

After our municipal elections this fall, Miami Beach United will compile a scorecard to educate and inform residents. The new "Resident Scorecard" measures Commission and Commission Committee votes to show how resident friendly the City of Miami Beach Mayor and Commissioners are.

Here's how it works:

- Miami Beach United identifies and tracks issues that affect Miami Beach residents quality of life.
- Official votes cast by elected officials are logged and scored on a scale from 0-100%. The highest score represents the most resident friendly voting record.
- The resident scorecard will be updated monthly, distributed over email and shared on social media.
